Sustainable for Generations

The most environmentally friendly flooring available are authentic wood floors. Trees are a renewable resource and provide flooring that is sustainable for many generations. All Viking Hardwood Flooring products are made with raw material originating from sustainably managed forests.

Our Urban Rustic collection is designed around a specific selection of European Oak Timber. Select forests yield a continual crop of mature oaks which have grown in perfect conditions on untouched soils for centuries. Older trees are carefully removed leaving their branches and foliage on the forest floor to feed the younger trees. From these old oaks, a piece of artistry is created with a reclaimed feel. A grade with natural character for the most authentic timeless floor.

North American walnut, known for its distinctive knots and grain, is finished with advanced staining techniques that lighten the tone while enhancing the wood's beauty. The result is a visually striking hardwood floor with unique warmth and style.

Disclaimer: Please remember that one of the beautiful properties of wood is that it is a product of nature and natural variations in color and grain pattern are to be expected. Color swatches and room scene images are meant for inspiration and to aid in color selection. Actual products may vary. Multiple sample boards or a full carton of material will give you a more accurate representation.
