Sustainable for Generations

The most environmentally friendly flooring available are authentic wood floors. Trees are a renewable resource and provide flooring that is sustainable for many generations. All Viking Hardwood Flooring products are made with raw material originating from sustainably managed forests.

Our Vintage Collection replicates the modernized craftsmanship of the 19th century, a time when smooth flooring was a rare commodity. The textures found on these floors replicate the marks left behind by sawmill equipment of that era. Finish treatments contrast and highlight the character and grain of the wood. This style combines the beauty of natural wood with a vintage feel. As an added benefit, the saw mark texturing makes everyday wear such as scratches and dents much harder to see.

* Please remember that one of the beautiful properties of wood is that it is a product of nature and natural variations in color and grain pattern are to be expected. These color swatches are provided to assist you with general color selection and appearance but will not show all the characteristics of the final installed product. Multiple sample boards or a full carton of material will give you a more accurate representation.
